Position Paper of the Data Analysis Specialist Group - The Potential of Audit Automation

In today's world, companies are confronted with various challenges that need to be mastered in the context of digitalisation and digital transformation. This results in new types of "data-centric" audit topics in practice. Inevitably, the inclusion of new audit objects in the audit universe or the expansion of existing audit areas is necessary to deal with the new requirements. Thus, digitalisation leads to a significant change in the activities of the auditor with other professional competences. One element of change will be the automation of audits.

The ISACA Data Analysis Specialist Group would like to motivate and provide practical support for the automation of audits and has explained the requirements and benefits as well as a possible procedure using simple examples. Interested parties can freely download the position paper here.
